This list was developed as a resource for anyone trying to access services for children, youth or families within our state. It is by no means a complete list of all available resources.

Phone numbers, addresses, contacts and web sites are subject to frequent changes. With that in mind, we have included all the information delineated in this book on the Office of Technical Assistance's web site. You can visit this site, click on "South Dakota's Resource List" along with individual section headings and see if any changes have been made. Revisions and/or additions will feature a yellow "new" sign. You can simply download the information and immediately update your own resource guide. Our office web site address is:
